

Guidelines and Requirements for Marriage at Trinity Episcopal Church

By both tradition and practice the Episcopal Church regards the solemnization of marriage as a sacred, life-long covenant between two persons in the presence of God and witnessed by the community of faith. The support of a faith community, as well as family and friends, is essential to the health of any marriage. Therefore, the following are required of persons seeking marriage at Trinity Episcopal Church:

Baptism

Baptism makes a person a member of the Christian church. The canons (laws) of the church require that at least one member of the couple be a baptized Christian.

Signing of Declaration of Intention

The canons of the Episcopal Church require that couples sign a “Declaration of Intention” which states that they believe marriage to be a lifelong union.

Counseling with the Clergy

In order for a marriage ceremony to be truly personal, the clergy solemnizing the marriage must get to know the people involved. And, in order to give a married couple all the support they need to weather the “for better, for worse” of life together, counseling is required by the national canons (church laws) of the Episcopal Church. Couples are asked to meet four times with the clergyperson, to share their journey toward marriage and their hopes for the future, and to explore the spiritual dimensions of marriage. Couples will be asked to fill out a questionnaire about their relationship to help them focus on areas of discussion such as finances and families of origin. At these meetings detailed plans for the ceremony itself will also be made.

Although these requirements may seem arduous, they are not nearly as arduous as other requirements we place upon marriage. Many couples put much effort and planning into the one day of the marriage ceremony, but it is equally important to put effort and planning into the many days of married life to follow. We believe it is well worth investing in establishing a firm foundation for a long and joyful life together.

Getting Married in Trinity Episcopal Church

Welcome to Trinity Church!

We're so glad you want to celebrate your wedding here. Couples often have many questions about their wedding; this brochure will help you plan your service.

Scheduling

Weddings are not celebrated during the holy seasons of Lent (usually mid-February through mid-April) or Advent (usually Thanksgiving through Christmas) unless in case of pastoral emergency. Weddings are also not celebrated during Holy Week or the week after Easter. Any other time is a wonderful time for your wedding. Please contact the church office to reserve the exact day and time. Usually you will want to do this at least six months to a year in advance – and under no circumstances will a wedding be scheduled less than three months in advance.

The Service

All weddings at Trinity Church will be according to the Episcopal Book of Common Prayer. Please feel free to borrow a copy if you'd like to look over the wedding service. Although there is some flexibility in the prayers and readings chosen, you may not write your own vows. The Episcopal vows are the traditional “for better, for worse, for richer, for poorer...” (However, they do not contain any clause about obeying!)

We strongly suggest your wedding include a celebration of the Holy Eucharist, since all our ability to share love with one another comes from Jesus first sharing his love with us, which we commemorate in the Eucharist. All people of faith, no matter what denomination they are from, are welcome to receive the Eucharist at Trinity Church. Thus your guests from other faith traditions will be welcomed and included. Note: if most or many of your guests are from a non-Christian tradition (for example, if one of you is Jewish or Muslim), you may prefer not having the Eucharist as part of your wedding.

There are two or three readings as part of the wedding service. You may want to ask friends or family to do these readings. All must be from the Bible – we do not permit the use of readings from other sources. If your wedding includes the Eucharist, one must be from the Gospels. A list of readings to choose from is at the end of this brochure. You may also ask a friend or family member to lead the prayers during the service. Or, if you prefer, the clergy person can do this. Please see the “Wedding Planning Worksheet” for more decisions to make about the details of your service.

Program

The church office can create a program/bulletin for your wedding service. We strongly suggest a bulletin that includes all the words of the service so that non-Episcopal guests can follow along and know when to join in the prayers. If you would like the church office to produce the bulletin, please let us know at least six (6) weeks in advance and give all the information you would like included in the bulletin including:

- Your completed “Wedding Planning Worksheet”
- The names of the people in your wedding party.
- The names of the readers and others participating in the service.
- The music you have chosen for the service, including titles and composers
- Any other details you would like included in the bulletin.

The charge for this service is $100. You may provide your own paper if you wish. Paper must also be provided six (6) weeks in advance.

Flowers

It is expected that if you wish to have fresh flowers at your wedding, you will need to provide them. Flowers are usually placed in two vases that sit on either side of the cross behind the altar. We call these the “altar flowers” although they do not actually sit on the altar. If you choose to have flowers in addition to the altar flowers, you may. However, flowers may not be placed on the altar table and may not obstruct the congregation’s view of the top of the altar, the cross behind the altar, or the wedding party. They must also not obstruct the clergy or wedding party when moving around the altar area.

Pipe cleaners or ribbon are the only acceptable way to attach bows or flowers to the ends of the pews. Tape, tacks, and plastic clips will damage the pews. If your wedding is on a Saturday, you may choose to donate your altar flowers to the church for Sunday’s services. If you choose to do this, please let us know and let us know how you would like your offering to be noted in Sunday’s worship bulletin (for example: “Flowers offered in thanksgiving for the wedding of Jane Smith and John Jones”).

After the ceremony, please remove your flowers (except the altar flowers if you have donated them for Sunday) and all other decorations from the church.

Candles

The candles on the altar and behind the altar will be lit for your wedding ceremony. Additional candles in the altar area are not allowed. You may, however, put small votive candles in the side windows of the church. No other candles are permitted – including the so-called “unity candles” permitted in some traditions, but which are not a part of ours.

Music

Music at Trinity Church is provided by and/or under the supervision of our music director and organist. Other organists are not permitted without the permission of the music director or unless the music director is not available. Please make an appointment with her if you plan to have music at your wedding. Music must be appropriate for a church context and reflect a Christian understanding of marriage. The music director can help you arrange for soloists and instrumentalists if you wish.

Guest Clergy

If there is a special clergyperson in your life that you would like to include, guest clergy are welcome to take part in the ceremony. Options for a guest minister might include: preaching the homily, leading the prayers, or pronouncing the final wedding blessing. Episcopal and Lutheran guest clergy are welcome to celebrate or co-celebrate the Eucharist. The Trinity Church clergyperson must lead the couple in their wedding vows and pronounce them married in order to be able to sign the wedding license.

Aisle Runners Prohibited

For reasons of safety, no aisle runners may be used. Also, for reasons of safety, the throwing of rice, birdseed or any other objects is not permitted.

Kneelers and Cushions

Trinity Church will provide a special wedding kneeler for use during the service. Other cushions (for example, for a ring bearer to carry the rings on) must be provided by you if you wish to have them.

Photography

Your photographers and videographer are welcome if they respect the sacred nature of the wedding ceremony. The photographer and/or videographer must meet briefly with the clergy before the wedding. Often this can be done just prior to the ceremony. Please make sure an appointment is set for a specific time for your photographer to touch base with the clergyperson.

Flash photography is an obvious presence of a photographer or videographer and can be distracting to wedding guests and the wedding party, leading many to lose focus on the wedding as an act of worship, rather than an event to be documented. Therefore, there is no flash photography or videography with lighting allowed during the service. Also, photographers and videographer must not be in the main body of the church itself, with the exception of the processions in and out of the church. They can stand in the sacristy opening near the altar (without entering the sanctuary itself), and/or in the vestibule of the church. If you would like “up close” photos taken with flash, parts of the wedding can be re-staged immediately after the wedding ceremony. In this way the photographer can get a close-up of the giving of the rings, etc.

License

You are responsible for obtaining your wedding license from the appropriate authorities. Please bring your license to the wedding rehearsal so that you don't forget it. After signing it, the clergy person will mail it in to the Town Hall from which it was obtained. In New Hampshire, you may apply for a marriage license at any Town Hall – it does not have to be from the Town of Hampton.

Rehearsal

The wedding rehearsal is an important event in preparing for your wedding. It is a time for your clergy person to get to know the members of your family and wedding party, and for everyone to practice what they are going to do so that the ceremony itself goes smoothly. The rehearsal is usually scheduled for the evening before the wedding, but it can be scheduled at another time if more convenient. Please leave at least an hour for the rehearsal. Please also remind your wedding party to be on time. The rehearsal will run an hour from when the last person arrives, so late arrivals may delay any rehearsal dinner festivities you have planned.

Costs

There is no charge to church members for the sacraments of the church. However, there are certain church costs to keep in mind, and we do ask that you make donations that will allow these costs to be met:

The rental charge for use of the church, including rehearsal, is $300 for non-members. A voluntary donation is requested from members. This check is made payable to Trinity Episcopal Church.

The cost of the organist is $150 to both members and non-members. To have the organist at your rehearsal is an additional $50. This check is made payable directly to our organist, Brendan Battey. Soloists or instrumentalists arranged for by the organist are to be paid directly by you. In the event that you desire an organist other than Trinity's music director, her contract permits her to charge a "bench fee" of one-half her usual stipend ($75) in addition to the honorarium paid to the organist contracted.

If you have the church office create your wedding bulletin, the cost is $100 for both members and non-members. This check is payable to Trinity Episcopal Church.

It is customary to give the clergy person an honorarium for his or her time in preparing for your wedding. The honorarium is at your discretion, but in the case of non-members, we suggest $200. For members, this check should be made payable to the Vicar's Discretionary Fund. Non-members make checks payable directly to the officiating clergy person.

Please note that if you have an organist and have the church do the program, this means there will be four separate checks. Please do not write one big check to Trinity Church. Please bring these checks to the rehearsal or remit them in advance so you don't have to remember them on your wedding day.

If your wedding is on a budget (for example, if you are not planning a reception) please let us know and some of the above costs can be waived or reduced.
